2011 Annual Report

Dear Friends,

Thank you for supporting Music Maker Relief Foundation! Your participation and support keep our programs strong and vital. Thus far 2011 has been an exciting year for us, filled with tremendous accomplishments. As we continue to bring forth music veiled by poverty, we celebrate these inspiring musicians in performances throughout the nation and the world.

This year we began working with new artists including Ironing Board Sam, Pat Wilder, Pat "Mother Blues" Cohen, Deer Clan Singers, Shelton Powe, Leyla McCalla and Cary Morin. We continue to keep a steadfast eye on all the artists we have worked with over the years. Artists such as Captain Luke and Precious Bryant who have been with us from our humble beginnings remain close and continue to inspire us all. Thanks to a special gift from J.P.'s Shellfish and increased participation from donors in the Feed An Artists initiative, we were able to increase monthly stipend grants and the number of artists served through our Musician Sustenance program by 38 percent.

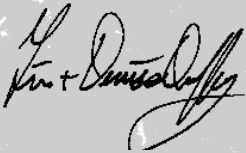

We would also like to thank the festivals across the country and abroad that have welcomed our MMRF musicians, especially the Columbia Roots N Blues N BBQ Festival for featuring the Music Maker Revue for five straight years and Nueva Onda and Englehart Productions for staging MM Revue tours throughout Europe for the last 6 years.

Board members Tom Meyer and Bart Farrell continue to host Capitol Blues Nights each spring and fall in Washington, DC and designate MMRF to be the recipient charity of their legendary Oyster Riot each November. Here in the NC Triangle, we are presenting the Warehouse Blues Series and the Music Maker Jubilee, and in 2012 we will launch our Roots & Leaves Series. We continue to incorporate youth involvement through the Raleigh Charter School SOOTS Program and the new Tap the Blues event showcasing our partnership with the North Carolina Youth Tap Ensemble.

Our joy is tempered by profound sadness of passing artists and friends. With great reverence we pledge to keep sharing the musical legacies of Benton Flippen, Slewfoot and Carl Hodges, and the indomitable spirits of Fishin' Blues veterans Don Delavergne and Ed Carson.

We are proud of the 17 years of service we have dedicated to the musical community. It was a wonderful moment to witness the Carolina Chocolate Drops win a Grammy and thank Music Maker Relief Foundation in their acceptance speech. This tremendous achievement has given great pride to all the Music Maker artists; to pass the torch of their musical traditions on to such capable, young hands brings them great satisfaction. We thank all our Advisory Board and Board members for all their efforts keeping Music Maker Relief Foundation alive.

With warm regards,

Tim & Denise Duffy

★ Musical Development

Our Musical Development program provides grants and services for the professional development and career advancement of partners.

When Shelton Powe stepped off stage after a performance at Shakori Hills Grassroots Festival in Silk Hope, North Carolina, joy and relief were painted across his face. Just a few weeks prior Shelton reconnected with Tim Duffy via Facebook and took the opportunity to catch up with his old friend. It had been nearly twenty years since he opened shows for Music Maker artists Neal Pattman and Cora Mae Bryant down at the Northside Tavern in Atlanta. With industrial laundry equipment repair work drying up alongside the economic downturn, Shelton was looking to return to his music and he looked to Music Maker to help him make that transition.

Shelton Powe, Hillsborough, NC © T. Duffy

A few weeks after the Shakori performance we scheduled a recording session with Shelton. Each take was better than the last. By the end of the session we had three fourths of an album, a few great portraits and a video ready for YouTube. Shelton's performances at Shakori Hills and in that recording session recall those of Etta Baker or Guitar Gabriel, seemingly effortless deliveries floating in and out of time and key with a fluidity afforded to only those born and bred within a musical culture. He is a true Carolina Bluesman of a quality not easily found. Look for this CD in early 2012 at musicmaker.org and on iTunes.

As more and more listeners turn to the Internet to find new music, coaching our artists to engage Internet audiences through social networking platforms like Facebook and YouTube has become as essential to the Musical Development program as more traditional promotion like radio play and print media. Music Maker Summer 2011 interns D.J. Vaughn and Emily Urquhart have been working closely with Shelton and several other artists, helping them to set up profile pages, upload music, photos, and video clips, and make connections with the online music community.

★ Musician Sustenance

The Musician Sustenance program provides grants for emergency relief and essential life needs.

Essie Mae Brooks has been a Music Maker recipient artist since 1995, but she's been singing all her life. Now in her 80s, Essie is mostly retired, although she still performs occasionally at local churches near her Houston County, Georgia home. Essie receives a monthly stipend through Music Maker's Musician Sustenance program, enabling her to live in relative comfort and still create and perform her beautiful a cappella Gospel numbers. Most recipient artists receiving monthly stipends are otherwise completely dependent on a minimal social security payment and often their families have no financial capacity to help in times of need.

When Essie's house fell into disrepair she had no resources to fix it, and simply continued living in her home with a broken, falling-in floor and crumbling siding that was bringing the outdoors in. Fortunately, an anonymous donor made it possible for Music Maker and some dedicated volunteers to replace the siding on her house and give her a safe, comfortable place to live. Essie is so pleased to have her home restored and looks forward to touring Europe in the summer of 2012 with our Sisters of the South Revue.

Artists like Essie often have nowhere else to turn when experiencing a housing crisis or other emergency. The Musician Sustenance program makes grants so artists may continue living in their homes, driving their cars and playing their instruments to create the music that inspires the world.

★ Cultural Access

Our Cultural Access Program builds appreciation and understanding of American roots music.

Through our Cultural Access Program America's rich heritage of folk music can be shared with the world and preserved for future generations. We strive to increase accessibility to the arts for underserved populations and bring racially and economically diverse audiences together in celebration of cultural heritage. In our 2010/2011 program year, MMRF's Cultural Access Program enabled more than 550 live performances at more than 130 events in 80 cities, 12 states and 9 countries. Through these performances MMRF artists have entertained and educated more than 190,000 people. We are also dedicated to making these artists accessible to youth; in 2010 Music Maker celebrated its 5th year working with Raleigh Charter High School's SOOTS program.

In the coming year we are planning several innovative events to highlight musical traditions near our home base of Hillsborough, North Carolina. In September we will present our first Music Maker Jubilee: Celebrating Piedmont Strings program, which presents a variety of string band traditions to entertain and educate a diverse audience about the cultural history of music in our region. Free tickets will be offered to local middle and high school students. In November we will unite Music Maker artists Big Ron Hunter, Ironing Board Sam, Pat Cohen and John Dee Holeman with youth tap dancers from the NC Youth Tap Ensemble in a new event called Tap the Blues. This event will raise funds for both organizations while reuniting two distinct art forms that were once very closely woven together. Get your tickets at musicmaker.org.

Q: I had a chance to try Pat “Mother Blues” Cohen’s legendary bread pudding. I had to lick my fingers. Will she share her recipe? - Emily U., Speed, NC

A: I put in a call to Mother Blues. She explained, “I don’t use recipes, but let me think for a moment.” She then came out with the following. Consider the list of ingredients a loose guide when you’re preparing this sweet and rich treat. Mother Blues says, “Use whatever you have sitting around.”

Simple Bread Pudding

- ¼ cup of white sugar
- 1 pack of butterscotch pudding
- 1 T cinnamon
- 8 oz heavy cream or evaporated milk
- 4 eggs, beaten lightly
- 1 T vanilla extract
- 1 Can of condensed milk
- 1 cup butterscotch chips

Pat “Mother Blues” Cohen

- 1 can fruit cocktail or 1 cup raisins
- Apple coffee cake cubed
- Half a loaf of braided egg bread cubed
- ½ cup of dark brown sugar
- ½ stick of butter
- 1 cup pecans, Canadian Whiskey

1. In a large mixing bowl, combine white sugar, pudding mix, cinnamon
2. In a separate bowl, combine heavy cream, eggs, condensed milk, vanilla, fruit cocktail, chips and add to dry ingredients.
3. Pour mixture over cubed bread and cake and mix together in a large mixing bowl

Spray a deep pan with cooking spray. Take ½ cup of brown sugar and squeeze together with cubed cold butter and crumble in bottom of pan. Place nuts across the bottom of the pan and pour pudding mixture on top. Place deep pan in a larger pan filled with water. Cook 45min-1 hr at 350°. Turn off oven and let it sit to cool for 30 min. Poke holes in the pudding and add Canadian Whiskey. Allow to soak in. Slice and serve!

IRONING BOARD SAM (SAMUEL MOORE) WAS BORN JULY 17, 1939 IN ROCK HILL, SOUTH CAROLINA. HE WAS ATTRACTED TO THE PIANO WHEN VERY YOUNG AND HIS STEPMOTHER TAUGHT HIM BOOGIE-WOOGIE PATTERNS ON A PUMP ORGAN. AFTER HIGH SCHOOL HE GOT A BROADER EDUCATION WHEN HE STARTED PLAYING PIANO IN CHURCH, BUT ALSO GIGGED IN THE LOCAL DRINK-HOUSE SCENE. THE LURE OF THE ROAD, MONEY AND WARMER CLIMES TOOK HIM TO MIAMI, FLORIDA WHERE HE SHARED BILLS WITH SAM & DAVE AND SAM COOKE AND GRADUATED TO THE HAMMOND B-3 ORGAN. HE GOT HIS NICKNAME WHEN, AFTER LOSING HIS B-3 IN A FIRE, HE CREATIVELY PUT TOGETHER A MAKESHIFT KEYBOARD THAT AN AUDIENCE MEMBER DISCOVERED SAT ON AN IRONING BOARD! IN NEW ORLEANS HE WAS BILLED AS "THE 8TH WONDER OF THE WORLD" AND "THE HUMAN JUKEBOX" SINCE FLASH HAS ALWAYS BEEN AN IMPORTANT PART OF HIS SHOW. IN RECENT YEARS GIGS HAVE DRIED UP SOMEWHAT FOR THIS SOULFUL KEYBOARDIST, BUT HE STOICALLY FEELS THAT THIS HAS ONLY DEEPENED HIS UNDERSTANDING OF WHAT "LIVING THE BLUES" MEANS.

I'D START PLAYING THAT BOOGIE-WOOGIE ON THAT PIANO...AND I WAS 16 AND A GROWN LADY SITS ON MY LAP, AND I SAID, 'I KNOW I'M GONNA BE A MUSICIAN NOW!'

...I PLAYED THE BLUES ALL MY LIFE, BUT THIS TIME IN MY LIFE I GOT THE BLUES. I'M HAPPY AND PEACEFUL, BUT I'M LIVING THE BLUES.

IRONING BOARD SAM

In 1981 on Broad Street in Asheville, NC, a 1950s tour bus rolled down the street, painted in wild colors with blazing letters reading, "Ironing Board Sam." It parked, and a wiry man emerged in a powder blue suit, white shirt, red hat and shoes. Since that moment Ironing Board Sam has intrigued me.

That evening with his psychedelic painted keyboard and homemade strobe lights, Sam tore down the house. Over the years I had heard tales of his exploits in New Orleans and would often see him on Bourbon Street. After Katrina, Sam disappeared. He did not appear on the Red Cross lists. Where had he gone? Finally, in 2010, MMRF supporter Gene Tomko located Sam living in Fort Mill, SC: Sam had returned home after 40 years. I invited him to a show at the Love House at UNC- Chapel Hill that October and that evening he joined Music Maker.

Sam has since performed dozens of shows, gotten new glasses, keyboards, suits, a passport, fresh dentures, a new ironing board, and a new career. "Life is a see-saw, you go up and down. I thought my musical career was over I had no idea where to go or what to do. I really feel at peace with myself and my life, and I am sure happy to be playing again, I look forward to each and every day!" Check out Sam's new CD, Going Up, now available at musicmaker.org
